

CATHOLIC SOCIETIES MARCHING THROUGH STREETS TO SERVICE AT ST. PATRICK'S CHURCH

ST. PATRICK'S DAY
CELEBRATED HERE

Loyal Sons and Daughters of Old Erin Attend Special Services in Morning and Gather Around Banquet Board at Night.

ALL Richmond on yesterday paid homage to the patron saint of the Irish, green being the color of the worn by the men, from Judge Witt, on the bench, to the newboy in the street. Shamrock pins, with their three-petal clover leaf, were the ornaments of the ladies, who, on the anniversary of the death of Ireland's first bishop and priest, delight to do honor to the "ould countrie."

Although the rainfall of the morning somewhat interfered with the plans for the St. Patrick's Day parade, the indoor features of the celebration were never more elaborate, the day beginning with appropriate services in St. Patrick's Church, and ending with largely attended banquets of the various Irish organizations of Richmond, some of the most prominent of the city being present.

Made It Holiday. To many the day was a holiday, and as, in the afternoon, the clouds broke away, leaving a beautiful springlike evening, thousands took occasion to honor St. Patrick by making this a festive event, and spent the afternoon in the parks or country. On the streets wherever people thronged the greetings of the day were observed, and the green emblems were everywhere in evidence.

The celebration of the feast of St. Patrick, one of the most generally observed of the special days on the calendar of the Catholic Church, is at the same time one of the most ancient. The patron saint died at Saul, in Ireland, on March 17, 493, when in his 121st year.

For over fourteen centuries therefore, the Catholic Church generally, and the Irish people wherever scattered, have done honor to the memory of the first to come among them with a message of the Christian religion. Unique in all missionary annals is the record of St. Patrick, wrapped up as his history is in a mass of beautiful legend and story, the first priest to the Irish having lived to see the complete downfall of the Druidical religion and the establishment in South Ireland of a faith which is firmly entrenched to this day.

Service in Morning. The celebration of the anniversary began in Richmond with Solemn High Mass at St. Patrick's Church at 10:30 o'clock, in the presence of a large church full of people. Rev. Father H. J. McCreary was the celebrant, the Ancient Order of Hibernians and several other Catholic societies attending service in a body, marching to seats reserved for them in the church.

The music, under the direction of Mr. Leo Meagher, was finely rendered, the following program being carried out: Kyrie (Rosewig), in G; Gloria, Credo, Sanctus; Benedictus, in F; Ave Maria, in G; Jeau Dei Vive (Verdi).

A large male chorus made up the choir, the organ being in charge of Miss Loreta Boyle.

Rev. Father Augustus Fleming, of Washington, D. C., was the preacher, his sermon on "The Life and Work of St. Patrick" being both appropriate and eloquent. Father Fleming recounted with historical accuracy many of the most beautiful legends which cluster around the name of St. Patrick, showing their probable origin and significance.

Much that was new to his audience in the life of the patron saint was told by Father Fleming, who is a man of scholarly attainments and a wide range of information.

With a nationality claimed by England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales, the birthplace of St. Patrick is in doubt, although the probable date is about 372 A. D. That the good saint was of patrician birth is indicated by his name, and the records show that when sixteen years of age he was captured by pirates and sold into slavery in Ireland, where he served as a swineherd for seven years.

After his escape and many adventures, St. Patrick was successively ordained as deacon, priest and bishop, and on the authority of Pope Celestine went to Ireland as the first representative of Christianity among the then heathen inhabitants of that island.

Tradition tells of the miraculous and saintly powers with which he fought the Druidical priests, cursing the fertile soil of the Druids so that it became bogs; cursing their rivers, so that they produced no fish; cursing their kettles, so that they would not boil, and finally cursing the Druid priests, so that the earth swallowed them up. Legend says that by this curse the soil of Ireland is to this day barren, the Druids being formally dismissed from the island.

Contemporaneous drawings show the patron saint as driving out the reptiles by beating a drum until he knocked a hole in it.

Father Fleming told of the significance of the shamrock, the small clover leaf of Ireland, adopted as a national emblem from the days of St. Patrick. The traditions are that the patron saint used the three leaves on a single stem to teach the heathen people the doctrine of the Trinity, and that from that time it became to them an emblem of their religion.

Following the church services the various societies, which attended in their regalia, were formally dismissed until evening by Chief Marshal Teehey.

Banquets at Night. Each of the two divisions of the Ancient Order of Hibernians celebrated the evening with a banquet, Division 1 at Murphy's Hotel and Division 2 at the Sacred Heart Hall.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Division One banqueted with Division Two, the auxiliary of Division Two celebrated with No. 1. At Murphy's Hotel several hundred persons were gathered, three long tables extending the full length of the banquet hall. Mr. Maurice A. Powers acted as toastmaster, having as his assistant Miss Minnie Mulvey, of Portsmouth, who also acted as emcee.

The Rev. Father Augustus Fleming, the preacher of the morning, responded to the toast, "The Irish Race," and an applause which was almost continuous.

"The clergy," was responded to by Rev. Father J. McCreary, who said: "The Ancient Order of Hibernians" brought forth a speech from Mr. John Flood, State secretary of that organization.

Mr. Phil G. Kelly responded to the toast "Woman," and Mrs. John Teehey answered for the Ladies' Auxiliary, "Its Achievements and Successes."

Other excellent speeches in response to various calls were made by Colonel John Murphy, Rev. Father Hannigan and Mr. John Moore, of Manchester, all of whom paid their tribute to the patron saint in their own style.

Music was rendered by H. J. and Joseph Smith, of Richmond, State former State president, made a brief humorous talk.

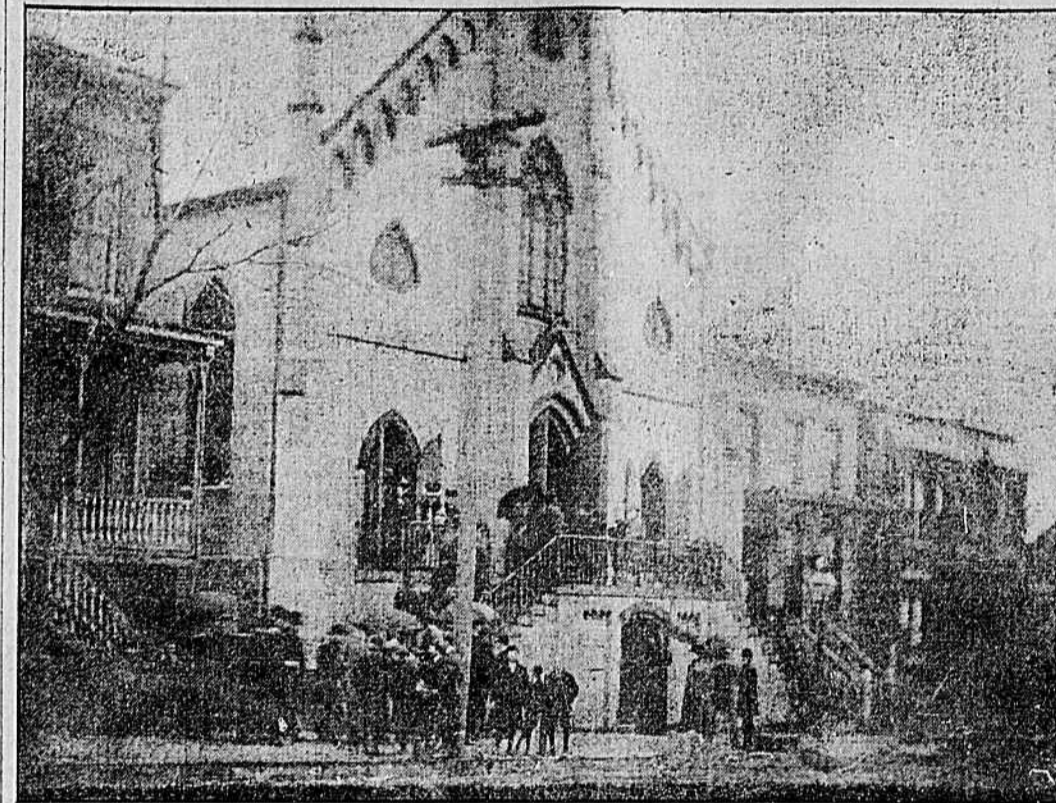

Among those at the speakers' table, besides the officers of the local Hibernians, were Mr. Joseph Burke, of Norfolk, State president; Mr. John Flood, of Portsmouth, State secretary; Miss Margaret Hagan, of Richmond, State secretary of the Ladies' Auxiliary; Mrs. Minnie Mulvey, of Portsmouth, State vice-president of the Auxiliary.

Table decorations were in green and white. The occasion was much enjoyed by all present.

Sacred Heart. With feasting, oratory and song, the celebration of St. Patrick's Day in the Sacred Heart hall, under the auspices of Division No. 2, and Auxiliary No. 1, did not come to a close until long after the clock showed the arrival of the morning.

The large hall was decorated profusely with streamers of green flowing from every point. Across the rostrum hung a huge banner bearing the initials of the Ancient Order of Hibernians. Three tables stretching almost the entire length of the building, with covers for about 300 people, were laden with everything man or woman could wish.

Dr. Daniel J. Coleman, the toastmaster, was the first of the speakers. He responded to the toast, "The Day We Celebrate." The Rev. Father J. B. O'Reilly followed him with a short address. Other toasts were as follows: "The Ancient Order of Hibernians," Mr. James J. Creamer; "Woman," Mrs. Agnes Ferriter, and "Our Boys," Mr. A. F. Taylor. Between the speeches were songs by Messrs. Michael Ferriter, George A. Powell and George Martin. The Rev. Father John Kellner, of Norfolk, and Joseph Perrig, of Fredericksburg, and Dr. W. A. McGowan were present and made impromptu speeches. The emcee, Miss Minnie Mulvey, of Portsmouth, who also acted as emcee, presided over the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

LANDED BULLET IN FLYING HEEL

Bicycle Officer Brought Down Negro, Who Had Cracked Another's Skull.

With a wound in his heel, inflicted by the unerring pistol of Bicycle Police Officer Henry Brown, a young negro, is still in the land of the living, and Dr. Hinchman, of the city ambulance corps, hopes, with due care and attention, to restore the young villain to the tender mercies of Justice Crutcher.

Early last night Henry assaulted and cracked the skull of Isaac Thurston, a worthy old colored man, who is employed at the Tredgair Iron Works. The assault occurred at Brook Avenue and Clay Street, where the negro was seen by Officer Neilsz, who immediately gave chase. The pursuit continued up to the Second Station, where Brown still in the lead, finding that he could not catch the fugitive, Neilsz ran into the station and summoned Thurston to the aid. The second officer mounted his wheel, and after pursuing Brown through devious alleys and crooked streets, succeeded in getting close enough to command him to halt. The man kept up his furious pace, and the officer fired from his hip, knowing what was the exact offense, the officer shot, and the negro felt the ball strike him in his only vulnerable spot. He ran no further, after being arrested he was taken to the City Home, with his victim.

To Succeed Mann. Likely That Councilman Richardson Will Be Elected to Board.

Although City Attorney Bellard has rendered no formal opinion as to the exact meaning and effect of the Cooke law, which prohibits members of Council from accepting subcontracts, the retirement of Alderman Mann, of Marshall Ward, unquestionably means that others will quit trading or get due of titles. Details announcement was made yesterday that Councilman E. Douglas Richardson, of Marshall, would switch. He is to be a candidate as Alderman Mann's successor, with the assurance of being elected by a big majority.

Mr. Richardson is a son of Judge David C. Richardson, who is opposing Mayor McCarthy. His work in the lower branch has proved that he is one of the best representatives in the service of the people, and his elevation to the Board will strengthen that body in this day of swift changes.

Mr. Richardson did not enter the race until Mr. Joseph Sorg declined to run.

MEETINGS CALLED OFF. Mayor's Sickness and Other Reasons.

If there is to be any activity in the mayoralty contest it will not be apparent before next week, for, owing to the Mayor's continued sickness and for other reasons, meetings scheduled for the next few days have been called off.

The newly-organized Jefferson Ward Club had arranged for another rally to-night, but it has been postponed because of some local complications that have recently arisen.

The Democrats of Madison Ward had intended to hold a meeting at Sanger Hall on Friday night, but this idea was abandoned yesterday for the reason that the City Committee will meet at Murphy's at the same time.

try as they might, they have been unable to secure a preacher, and being unsuccessful in several instances, the majority of the congregation is now clamoring for the return of the former pastor. He, on the other hand, is well satisfied with the work he is doing in the West End and has not yet signed his willingness to come back to his old charge.

A call to Dr. Walter Brooks, of Washington, only resulted in raising the question of disapproval from his flock. He will remain with them despite the fact, it is said, that he was inclined to accept the call here.

Last night the Rev. Graham said that although he knew that the great majority of the members of the Fifth Street Church were highly in favor of his returning, he had as yet received no formal call.

Woman's Nightmare. No woman's happiness can be complete without children; it is her nature to love and want them as much so as it is to love the beautiful and pure. There is no necessity for the reproduction of life to be either painful or dangerous. The use of Mother's Friend so prepares the system for the coming event that it is safely passed without any danger. Woman's Nightmare. No woman's happiness can be complete without children; it is her nature to love and want them as much so as it is to love the beautiful and pure. The critical ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass, however, is so fraught with dread, pain, suffering and danger, that the very thought of it fills her with apprehension and horror. There is no necessity for the reproduction of life to be either painful or dangerous. The use of Mother's Friend so prepares the system for the coming event that it is safely passed without any danger. This great and wonderful remedy is always applied externally, and has carried thousands of women through the trying crisis without suffering.
